Fleur Bainger, Freelance Journalist has written an article on WA's most wanted jobs. Bainger previously worked for the ABC but has now started her own company White Noise Media and has been producing podcasts for Lonely Planet. Bainger says the Sunday Times Magazine asked her to put together the story on the most wanted jobs and where the money is. Number one on her list is mining followed by being a radio DJ and Bainger spoke to Nathan from Nova about his job. Bainger also spoke to John Walker, Chocolatier, a brewer from Little Creatures and a robot programmer from the UWA School of Computer Science and Software Engineering.
