

Job Vacancy

Junior Programmer

Ebooks Corporation, Claremont, WA

DATE OF ISSUE: 30 July 2007

HOURS: Full-time or Part-time

CONTACT: Sean McHale

PAY RATE: $25 per hour

WEBSITE: <http://www.ebooks.com>

Entry-level programming position with a rapidly growing company that sells ebooks for individual, corporate and academic use.

DETAILS:

Ebooks Corporation is a Perth-based ebook service, serving books in digital form to end users around the world. The company was established in 1997 and is entering a rapid growth phase. We are looking for brilliant, motivated graduate or undergraduate applicants who will make a real difference in an exciting field.

If you thrive in a fast paced environment, want to be part of a talented team, love experimentation and tweaking, and have the patience to achieve greatness one step at a time, this might be the ideal job for you.

GAIN EXPERIENCE IN

- Development, deployment and support of custom web applications in various stages of the application life-cycle
- Server security and maintenance
- Database design and optimization for high-volume web applications
- Cutting edge technologies such as grid computing
- SOAP, REST and XML-RPC
- Agile programming practices
- AJAX and Web 2.0 development
- Server performance monitoring

REQUIREMENTS

- Bachelor of Computer Science or equivalent (or working towards this)
- Strong verbal and written English language communication skills
- Experience with scripting languages
- Experience developing web applications
- Understanding and experience with OO design
- Comprehensive understanding of the web from low to a high level
- Experience with SQL / databases
- Knowledge of HTML, CSS and JavaScript

TO APPLY

Please send your CV to: ebooks@ebooks.com, quoting job number: JUN-725506J

